

Table of Contents

Abstract.....	i
Abstrak	ii
Table of Contents.....	iii
List of Abbreviations.....	v
Chapter 1: Introduction.....	1
1.1 Background	1
1.2 Research Question	2
1.3 Literature Review.....	2
1.4 Theoretical Framework: An Adapted VoC Model for Digital Governance	3
1.4.1 Operationalizing the Five Spheres for the Digital Economy	5
1.4.2 Causal Logic and Argument	6
1.4.3 Reconceptualizing Labor in the Digital Age: Data as Labor	7
1.5 Main Argument	7
1.6 Research Methods	7
1.6.1 Data Collection and Analysis	8
1.7 Thesis Structure	9
Chapter 2	10
Case Study Analysis: Three Digital Regimes	10
2.1 The United States.....	10
2.1.1 Industrial Relations.....	10
2.1.2 Corporate Governance: Venture Capital and Shareholder Primacy.....	10
2.1.3 Inter-firm Relations: Competition as Market Domination.....	11
2.1.4 Vocational Training & Education: Elite Skills and Firm-Led Training.....	11
2.1.5 Employee & User Relations: At-Will Employment and Internal Redress	11
2.1.6 Policy Outcomes and Key Regulations: A Governance Model of "Permissionless Innovation"	12
2.2 The European Union: Regulated Digital Capitalism	12
2.2.1 Industrial Relations: The User as "Data Subject"	12
2.2.2 Corporate Governance: Patient Capital and Stakeholder Value	13
2.2.3 Inter-firm Relations: Regulated Competition and Interoperability	13
2.2.4 Vocational Training & Education: Social Partnership and Public Good.....	14
2.2.5 Employee & User Relations: Strong Protections and External Redress.....	14
2.2.6 Policy Outcomes and Key Regulations: A Governance Model of "Rights-Based Regulation"	14
2.3 China: State-Steered Digital Capitalism	15
2.3.1 Industrial Relations: The User as a State Data Asset	15

2.3.2 Corporate Governance: State Guidance and "National Champions"	15
2.3.3 Inter-firm Relations: State-Managed Competition	15
2.3.4 Vocational Training & Education: State-Directed Skill Production.....	16
2.3.5 Employee & User Relations: Hierarchical Control and Social Credit.....	16
2.3.6 Policy Outcomes and Key Regulations: A Governance Model of "Cyber Sovereignty"	16
2.4. Comparative Analysis: Institutional Drivers of Regulatory Divergence	16
2.4.1 Data Protection: A Comparative Analysis of the Data Protection	17
2.4.2 Anti-Monopoly: A Comparative Analysis of the DMA, AML, and Sherman Act.....	19
Chapter 3	23
The Global Projection of Institutional Conflict	23
3.1 Mechanisms of Projection: Firms, Regulations, and Infrastructure.....	23
3.2 The Institutional Fault Lines of Conflict	24
3.2.1 The LME-CME Fault Line: Innovation vs. Regulation	24
3.2.2 The LME-SCE Fault Line: Open Markets vs. State Control	25
3.2.3 The CME-SCE Fault Line: Rights vs. Sovereignty.....	25
3.3 Illustrative Vignettes: Institutional Pressures on Firm Strategy.....	25
3.4 International Institutions as Arenas for Conflict	30
3.4.1 ITU and the Battle over Internet Governance	30
3.4.2 WTO E-Commerce Negotiations: Institutional Deadlock.....	30
3.4.1 The US (LME) and the Firm-Centric Multi-Stakeholder Model.....	31
3.4.2 The EU (CME) and the Rights-Based Multi-Stakeholder Model.....	32
3.4.3 China (SCE) and the State-Centric Multilateral Model.....	32
Chapter 4: Conclusion.....	34
4.1 A Policy Pathway for the Global South: Strategic Interoperability and Digital Non- Alignment	35
References	36