

CHAPTER I.....	1
I.1 Background.....	1
I.2 Problem Formulation.....	4
I.3 Research Objectives.....	4
I.4 Research Benefits.....	5
I.5 Research Method.....	5
I.6 Research Limitations.....	6
I.7 Research Proposal Structure.....	6
 CHAPTER II.....	 7
Literature Review and Hypotheses Development.....	7
II.1 Capital Structure.....	7
II.1.1 Capital Structure Theory-M&M Theorem.....	8
II.2 Theoretical Models.....	11
II.2.1 Model based on agency costs – The trade-off model.....	12
II.2.1.1 Financial distress.....	14
II.2.1.2 Agency costs.....	15
II.2.1.3 Trade-off theory of capital value.....	15
II.2.2 Pecking order theory.....	16
II.2.2.1 Asymmetric information problem.....	17
II.2.2.2 Empirical test of the Pecking-Order Model.....	19

II.3	Optimal Capital Structure.....	20
II.4	Recent Study Review.....	21
II.5	Hypotheses.....	23
II.6	Methodology.....	24
II.7	Variable Measurement.....	25
CHAPTER III.....		27
Company Profile.....		27
III.1	Company History.....	27
III.2	Consolidation and Integration.....	28
III.3	Vision and Mission of Bank mandiri.....	30
CHAPTER IV.....		31
Research Result and Discussion.....		31
IV.1	Empirical Result.....	31
CHAPTER V.....		34
Conclusions.....		34