

ABSTRACT

Each region has different potentials from other regions, it can be seen from the advantages of the economic sector of each region. This study aims to determine the potential of the area in Tapanuli Bagian Selatan by using Location Quotient, Shift Share and Growth Model Ratio analysis tools with GDRP on the basis of constant prices 2010. The results by Location Quotient analysis known that agriculture, forestry and fisheries sectors, electricity and procurement sectors, construction sectors are the leading sectors.

Keywords : regional potential, growth, shift-share, LQ, GMR