PREFACE

All praise to Allah, the God Almighty, for His everlasting grace and mercy that guides the author throughout the journey of writing this water. In the course of writing this paper, the author has received all kinds of support, both moral and material, from many parties. The author would like to express her gratitude to:

1. My parents, Basuki Ujjiyanta and Siti Noer Istiqomah, my siblings Ica and Izul. Thank you for the endless support, love, prayers, and advices/lessons.
2. Faculty of Medicine, Public Health, and Nursing UGM who has given me the opportunity for me to actualize my first research paper for the advancement of medical education.
3. dr. Santosa Budiharjo, M.Kes., PA (K), as the material advisor, Dr. dr. Ch. Tri Nuryana, M.Kes., as the methodological advisor, and dr. Nur Arfian, PhD., as the expert examiner, for all the guidance, advices, and motivation, as for without it, this paper will not be as what it is today.
4. Department Anatomy, Faculty of Medicine, Public Health, and Nursing Universitas Gadjah Mada who has given me the permission to look into their Community Service Programs and the chance to participate in the discussion about improvement of the programs and the work groups they're focusing on.
5. Mbak Aziza and all of the Staffs of FM-PHN UGM for the patience in dealing with our frequent questions and for the tremendous help in the process of making this thesis and during our pre-clinical years, as for without it we might not be able to reach nor see the finish line of our pre-clinical years.

6. My sky friends, Calcarina Nira and Azzahra Asyisyifa, for the undying trust, support, help, and reminder throughout my pre-clinical years.
7. Mba Bunga, Miri, Lita, Alsha, DV and the entire study-tube community for the support and for accompanying me on the sleepless nights.

The author is aware that this paper is not a perfect paper. Therefore, the author would like to apologize beforehand for the mistakes made in this paper. The author would appreciate feedbacks and suggestions that may improve the field of this study further.
